

BUILDING YOUR TALK

1) Audience

a. Who is your audience?

b. What do they care about?

c. How does your topic help them?

d. What do you have in common with them?

e. Do you have a story that highlights their problem?

2) Strategy

a. What does the space lend itself to?

b. How much time do you have? (Less is better!)

c. How many points will you make? (Less is better!)

d. How will you tell them what to expect?

e. How will you summarize when it's over?

3) Delivery

What are your modules?

What story/example will you use to illustrate your point?

Where will you open for discussion?

What knee-jerk question will you use to get them talking?

What exactly will your call to action be?

How will you get buy-in?

How will you build accountability?
